Who we are

Who is providing this notice?

EVERCURRENT WEALTH MANAGEMENT (“ECWM”). We provide this privacy notice annually and when we make material changes to our privacy practices.

What we do

How does EverCurrent Wealth Management protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

We take reasonable steps to ensure the confidentiality of client information shared via electronic messages. However, clients are reminded to avoid including sensitive personal or financial information, such as account numbers or Social Security numbers, in electronic messages.

How does EverCurrent Wealth Management collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- open an account or give us contact information;
- enter an investment adviser contract or give us your income information;
- tell us about your investment or retirement portfolio.

We also collect your personal information from other companies.

To ensure compliance and protect client information, all electronic message communications are conducted using firm-approved, secure communication platforms that are monitored and archived in accordance with regulatory requirements.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only:

- Sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes – information about your creditworthiness;
- Affiliates from using your information to market to you; and
- Sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you.

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.

What happens when I limit sharing for an account that I hold jointly with someone else?

Your choices will apply to everyone on your account – unless you tell us otherwise.
